

Capture Character

Description:

Spend 20 minutes photographing someone you know. Attempt to capture their character as best you can. Display a glimpse into this person's life, whether they are working, playing, or expressing some emotion.

Keys to Success:

- Use anything available in the way of surroundings to help explain the person's character, including props if desired.
- Use any lighting you can, whether that be flash or ambient.
- Remember: the person - not the environment - is the subject of the photo. The person should take up most of the frame.
- Enhance your photos in Lightroom or Photoshop when you are done shooting.

Upon Completion of this Assignment:

You've come a long way with respect to photographing people. This assignment requires you to use the exposure, lighting, composition, and processing tools you've learned so far. You should end up with a portrait that you are proud of.
