

THE STORY OF WALLINGFORD

Friday, 8th July 2022 at 10.30 am on Zoom

A talk by Judy Dewey, Curator of the Wallingford Museum

Those of us who have heard Judy before, do know how fortunate we are that this charismatic and knowledgeable speaker has agreed to speak to us once more. Wallingford's pivotal position on the banks of the Thames have meant that it has often been at the heart of events in the history of our island. The typical market town's appearance today hides a wealth of hidden history, which for 600 years was closely linked to national events. It is a fascinating tale of survival through war, wealth, power, poverty and recovery. It can even claim to be the place that William the Conqueror chose to cross the Thames in 1066.
